Project Description

During the past school year, U.S. diplomats in Lithuania made presentations to more than 3,000 Lithuanian students. To meet the incredible demand for conversations with Americans, the Embassy will schedule Skype sessions for Lithuanian high school classes with U.S. interns who can share American culture, describe their experiences at U.S. colleges and universities, and discuss current events and other topics of mutual interest. These sessions will give Lithuanian students an opportunity to practice English-language conversation skills and strengthen their understanding of American culture and connections to the United States. Interns will gain valuable public speaking experience and learn about Lithuanian history and culture.
